

Genarate Password with a Python

---

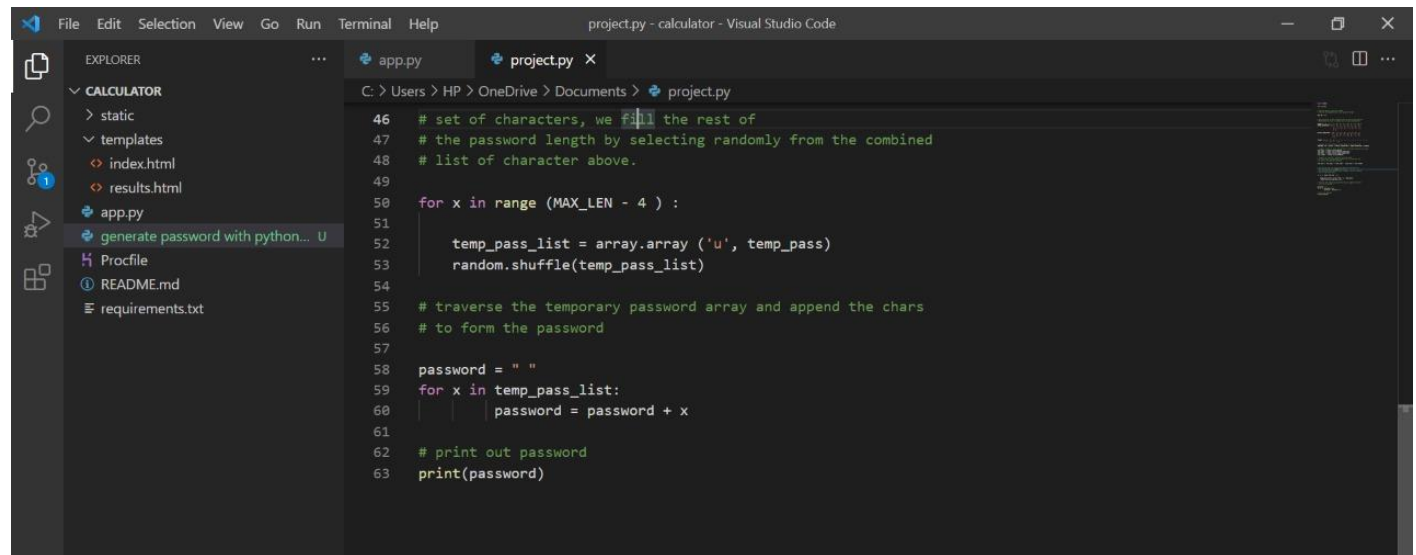

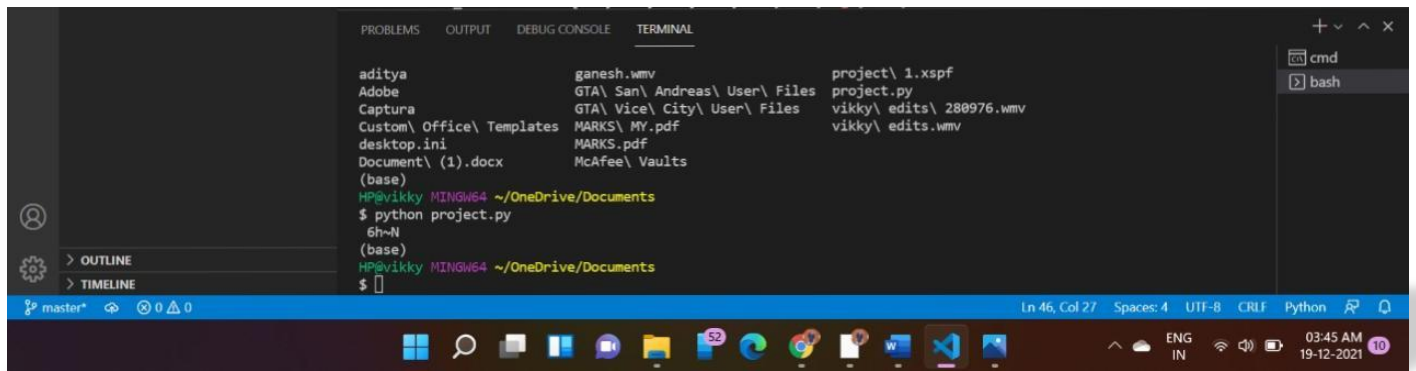

1. To create a password with python,we need to create a program that takes the length of the password and generates a random password of the same length
2. To write a python program to create a password to create a password, declare a string of numbers + uppercase + lower case + special characters.

```
import random
```

```
import array
```

```
password = ''
```

3. Take a random sample of string of a length given by the user

THANK YOU